

AFRICAN-AMERICAN HISTORY MONTH

During February, SABU and the African Society hosted a panel to answer questions about black hair. After a series of demonstrations and presentations on different types of hair, students discussed the cultural connections between black hair, the black community and the world in general.